Helen Zia's Last Boat Out of Shanghai bridges the wide lens of history with the compelling stories of four people who left China during the 1949 mass exodus following China's Communist takeover. Helen Zia is also the author of Asian American Dreams: The Emergence of an American People, a finalist for the prestigious Kiriayama Pacific Rim Book Prize and referred to by President Bill Clinton in two separate speeches in the Rose Garden. She coauthored, with Wen Ho Lee, My Country Versus Me, which reveals what happened to the Los Alamos scientist who was falsely accused of being a spy for China in the "worst case since the Rosenbergs." She was Executive Editor of Ms. Magazine and is a founding board co-chair of the Women's Media Center. Her articles, essays and reviews have appeared in numerous publications, books and anthologies, receiving awards for her ground-breaking stories.
