*Graduate School
Discussion
with RCAH Fellows!*

Thinking about Grad School?
Want to know more about it?

The RCAH Graduate Fellows in Teaching and Learning are graduate students from arts and humanities programs across MSU. They work in the RCAH on projects to promote excellence in undergraduate teaching and learning and serve as a resource to RCAH students.

For this WNL, they will be hosting a conversation about graduate school—what life is like as a graduate student, how to decide on your program and advisor, what kinds of work their degrees are preparing them to do, and so forth.

There will be opportunities to ask questions in small groups.
